ADA Information

A service animal means any dog that is individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability. Emotional support animals, comfort animals, and therapy dogs are not service animals under Title II and Title III of the ADA. Other species of animals, whether wild or domestic, trained or untrained, are not considered service animals.

Per ADA guidelines, all services dogs must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the service animal's work or the individual's disability prevents using these devices. In that case, the individual must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls. The Kentucky Bourbon Festival will make a Service Animal relief area available for registered Service Animals. In accordance with ADA statutes it is the responsibility of the owner, not the Kentucky Bourbon Festival, to provide for the care or supervision of a service animal, including cleaning up after the animals.

If a service animal is out of control and the handler does not take effective action to control it or if the service animal relieves itself outside of the designated relief area, the handler will be asked to remove the service animal from the Kentucky Bourbon Festival area.
